Had innocent Artes.

Can honest Art die?

Artes cannot die.

(but those
NOr court, nor shop-crafts were thine ARTES, Which Adam studied ere he did transgresse:
The Wonders of the Creatures, and to dresse The worlds great Garden. Sure the Sun ne're rose Nor couch'd, but blush'd to see thy roose enclose More dainties than his orb. CAN Death oppress Such HONEST ART as this, or make it less?
No: Fame shall still record it, and expose Industrious care to all eternity. (DIE

Cannot hide Arts.

H Eire of thy Fathers goods, and his good parts, Which both preservest, & augment' st his store, Tracing th' ingenuous steps he trod before:
Proceed as thou begin' st, and win those hearts,
With gentle curt' sie, which admir' d his Arts.
Whilst thou conceal' st thine own, & do' st deplore Thy want, compar' d with his, thou shew' st them Modesty clouds not worth; but hate diverts, (more.
And shames base envy, ARTS he CANNOT (HIDE
That has them. Light through every chink is

To the Ingenious
R E A D E R.

FOr some reasons I apprehend my self engaged to give an account of two things, that refer to the ensuing piece: The one, for not publishing this Catalogue untill now: The other, of the mode & manner thereof, being partly Latine, and partly English.

About three yeares agoe, goe, (by the perswasion of some friends) I was resolved to take a Catalogue of those Rarities and Curiosities which my Father had scedulously collected, and my selfe with continued diligence have augmented, & hitherto preserved together: They then pressed me with that Argument, That the enumeration of these Rarities, (being more for variety than any one place known in Europe could afford) would be in honour to our Nation, and a benefit to such ingenious persons as would become further enquirers into the various modes of Natures admirable workes, and the curious Imitators thereof: I readily yeilded to the thing so urged, and with the assistance of two worthy friends (well acquainted with my design,) we then began it, and many examinations of the materialls thors compared, a Draught was made, which they gave into my hands to examine over. Presently thereupon my onely Sonne dyed, one of my Friends fell very sick for about a yeare, and my other Friend by unhappy Law-suits much disturbed. Upon these accidents that first Draught lay neglected in my hands another year. Afterwards my said Friends call again upon me, and the designe

Pictures were not ready, and I found my kinde friend Mr Hollar then engaged for about tenne Moneths, for whose hand to finish the Plates, I was necessarily constrained to stay untill this time.

Now for the materialls themselves I reduce them unto two sorts; one Natturall, of which some are more familiarly known & named amongst us, as divers sorts of Birds, foure-to whom I have given usual English names. Others are lesse familiar, and as yet unfitted with apt English termes, as the shell-Creatures, Insects, Mineralls, Outlandish-Fruits, and the like, which are part of the Materia Medica; (Encroachers upon that faculty, may try how they can crack such shels.)

The other sort is *Artificiseverall Nations, rare curiofities of Art,&c. These are also expressed in English, (saving the Coynes, which would vary but little if Translated) for the ready satisfying whomsoever may desire a view thereof. The Catalogue of my Garden I have also added in the Conclusion (and given the names of the Plants both in Latine and English) that nothing
